Rule 1	Treat every firearm as being loaded. This is the principal point that the Firearm Safety Rules are built upon. Always treat the firearm as if it were loaded. Do not take the word of another person that the firearm is unloaded. Check every firearm yourself. How can you tell if the firearm is loaded or unloaded? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Do not take anyone's word that a firearm is unloaded • Keep your finger off the trigger; always point the muzzle in a safe direction; open the action and inspect the chamber and magazine if fitted • If you do not know how to open a firearm, LEAVE IT ALONE Never hand a firearm to anyone with the bolt or action closed. Before handing over a firearm - Point the muzzle in a safe direction Open the bolt or action Check that the chamber and magazine are empty Times for special care - closing, cocking, releasing the safety catch, uncocking, opening a loaded firearm and using the action to unload live rounds.

Rule 2	Always point firearms in a safe direction. Loaded or unloaded, always point the muzzle in a safe direction. Do not point a firearm at anyone else or yourself. “A safe direction” will depend on where you are; remember bullets or pellets can go through ceilings or walls Do not allow careless habits to form. Concentrate on what you are doing when handling firearms - no day-dreaming You could define a safe direction as - The direction that if the firearm were to discharge there would be no loss of life, no injury to another person and minimal damage to property. Never lean your firearms against vehicles or put them in any place where they could slide or fall. This could damage your firearm and make them fire accidentally. Always be particularly careful when placing firearms in or removing them from vehicles and boats. Never let the muzzle point at yourself or any other person. Remove the firearm butt first.
